BANCTEC APPOINTS RICHARD MOBLEY VICE PRESIDENT OF HEALTHCARE SERVICES DIVISION

DALLAS April 23, 2008 – BancTec, a global provider of advanced, high volume, document and payment processing solutions and services, today announced the appointment of Richard E. Mobley as vice president of its Healthcare Services Division.

"We are excited for Richard to join BancTec," said Jeff Brown, vice president of BancTec's Business Process Outsourcing (BPO) practice in the Americas. "He has a very strong background in healthcare technology and services, and will be a valuable addition to our team as we continue growing our presence in the industry."

Mr. Mobley previously served as vice president of electronic data interchange (EDI) services with Cerner Corporation. Prior to that position, he was a senior vice president responsible for the creation and development of the e-Health division for Per-Se Technologies. Mr. Mobley has held other senior management and sales and marketing positions with Medic Computer Systems, TeleClaims, and Healthpac Computer Systems.

Mr. Mobley has served in various leadership positions with the Workgroup for Electronic Data Interchange (WEDI), as well as other HIPAA transaction industry organizations.

Over the past year, BancTec has expanded its healthcare services and solutions, with particular emphasis on its BPO offerings. In the U.S., BancTec introduced its RemitCycle 360™ revenue cycle management solution, which automates and unifies the administrative and financial events between providers, payers and banks. This BPO solution combats a huge source of inefficiency in the healthcare system by facilitating electronic processing of explanation of benefits (EOB) forms and money transfers from health insurers to medical providers. BancTec has also taken a leadership position in the industry through the Medical Banking Project, which is working to coordinate the efforts of academic, business, government and healthcare leaders to improve healthcare costs, quality and access.
